Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hendricks, of Cold Point, have returned home after having enjoyed a week-end stay in Stone Harbor.

During his trip through France and into Germany, George Corson, of Cold Point, says he was much impressed with the energy of the working classes. Their hours, as a rule, are long, but they are always at work. Their dray horses seem to pull twice the loads the same animals do here, and the economy and the intensive methods of the small farmer furnishes a lesson that might well be followed with profit by the more wasteful American. Along the Rhine country the steep mountain sides are devoted to grape culture. Those lands are made to grow crop after crop. The farms are so steep that the use of animals is prohibitive, and yet up the mountain for many feet the land is devoted to grapes, all staked and pruned carefully. The men work among the vines by the use of a piece of timber braced against two sturdy grape vines and on this as a protection the man works. Some of the slopes are so steep that only by building stone protection supports underneath can the land be used at all, but even here the crop is grown. Mr. Corson says to reclaim the land now and to erect the walls would require an expenditure equal to the yield of crops in grapes for many years to come. The grape vines are sprayed twice each season during the spring of the year.

Chief Hallowell said the young man was not intoxicated nor had any injury occurred to any one, the arrest being made as a matter of public welfare. This prompted the judge to omit a jail sentence.

President Judge Aaron Swartz was so incensed at the finding of a jury in a bootlegging case that he immediately discharged the twelve, declaring he would not let them serve further.

"I can't believe that there are twelve persons in Montgomery County who have so little regard for their oaths that they will acquit when one of the defendants admitted that he had illegally trafficked in liquor."

Harvey Hollar, of Philadelphia, and Walter Heckman, of Jamaica, L. I., were charged by Lower Merion police with selling whisky illegally at Belmont race track at the recent races.

Included on the jury was one woman, Mrs. Jane Thompson, an aged resident of the York road section. She felt the stinging rebuke of Judge Swartz so much that she sought him out afterward and explained that she alone had stood out for conviction and only yielded when the eleven men jurors told her they would keep her out of the jury room forever if she didn't yield. The argument of the men during their deliberation of an hour or more was along this line: "Why make goats of these nogroes when men of wealth traffic in liquor and buy it at will?"

Quite a large number of this section are attending the Allentown this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Hoot are on a trip to St. Louis, Mo.

Some of the roads in this and Worcester township near the line of Upper Gwynedd township are badly in need of having the weeds and small bushes trimmed from the side, as the roads by reason of this are becoming quite narrow and when one vehicle is made to turn out for another there is always the danger of getting too far in the ditch, which causes a great lot of trouble in getting out again especially to an automobile. The danger is not so great now as it is when there is considerable rain; then the ditches are filled with water, and along the side the ground is in such a condition that the wheels cannot secure traction.

No services will be held next Sunday in Grace Reformed church.

The baseball season is about ended here according to report. Later it is planned to arrange for meetings looking towards next season when it is expected that another good team will represent West point. During the season just closed the local fans were treated to the best there was in the independent ranks, and many a red hot battle was witnessed on the park diamond. The unfortunate part, however, was the support of the team which lagged towards the end of the season, and the management was obliged to place a weaker team in the field to finish the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Kline, of Souderton, are now assisting in the general store of Harry M. Nase.

The Upper Gwynedd league of Women voters held a meeting in the fire house last Thursday evening and a talk was given by Mrs. T. SCHOOL BUILDING PROBLEMS.

Ambler Board Is Proceeding Cautiously.

Desire to Maintain Present Tax Rate if Possible—$100,000 Bond Issue Suggested—Board's Splendid Financial Position.

Careful consideration is now being given by the members of the Ambler school board with regard to the proposed new high school building, which at this time is very much needed. Two special meetings have been held, one last Thursday evening and the other on Tuesday evening, when the situation was gone over fully. The great question which the board is now battling with is whether or not the new building can be erected without an increase in the present tax rate. The previous funded loans will be paid off next year, leaving the board free of debt. This issue covered a period of 10 years and it is planned now to extend the proposed loan over a longer period in order to secure a better rate, which plan, it is believed, will help in keeping the tax rate within present bounds.

The board at the two special meetings has gone into the matter carefully with the following results: To build a high school such as is now under consideration will cost, including the ground, almost $100,000. To retire the remainder of a bond issue of this amount including interest it will be necessary to contribute to the sinking fund each year about $8000. The present amount received from outside tuition is in the neighborhood of $17,500, of which amount $12,000 is for high school tuition and the balance for the grades. With this amount being received annually, and it is likely to increase rather than decrease, the members are of the opinion that a large amount can be used in the necessary cost of the proposed new building, which will accomplish the results desired, namely in keeping the taxes to the present rate. However, should the rate be increased it is likely to be very much below neighboring boroughs and townships. In going into the matter of outside pupils attending the Ambler schools the members pointed out that it is not a detriment but beneficial and it is the opinion of solicitor, Harold G. Knight, Esq., who was present at the meetings, that it is a question whether the board can keep these pupils out and compel them to attend their own or some other school. At the present time there are 135 pupils from Whitpain township, principally from the West Ambler section, who are distributed from the First grade up, from two to 29 in a grade. At the present time there are 240 in the high school, of which number there are 150 students who come from outside of the borough, leaving 90 in this department from Ambler. If it should be decided by the board on request of the taxpayers to refuse outside pupils admission, but one teacher can be dropped because the state requires a certain number of subjects to be taught, and failure to comply will mean that the state appropriation will be cut off.

Another question that was gone into was the senior department of the high school, where there are at present 32 students. It was pointed out that of this number but 10 come from Ambler, and it will cost the same to teach this number as it does the 32 students now in the class. That in the introduction of outside students also has it beneficial results from the businessman's standpoint can not be denied. After the whole matter is summed up the one great question above all else is: "Do the people of Ambler want their children to have the same advantages as other communities derive from a first class high school?"

At the meeting of the board on Tuesday evening, at which there was a full attendance, together with Solicitor Knight, it was decided to go before the citizens at the November election and ask for a loan of $100,000 for the proposed new high school.

HOLD OR SELL WHEAT?

Question Discussed by Horsham Farmers' Club.

How the "Potato King of Pennsylvania" Prepares the Ground and Grows His Crop—Interesting Discussion.

On Saturday evening, September 17, the Horsham Farmers' Club assembled at the farm home of John B. and Ella S. Park, Horsham. President Isaac Michener called the company to order and announced that the recording secretary, who was ill would not be well enough to be present, and asked that a substitute be elected. Miss Goentner was chosen, and the minutes of last meeting read and considered. After this the prescribed routine was observed.

Report of the executive committee: "Is it possible for any farmer in Horsham township to make a living for his family, meet the ordinary expenses of his farm and make 5 per cent. on the money invested?" Frank Oehrle, Jr. "What do your consider the most successful method of stiring vegetables?" Jacob Schaffer. "Discuss hisbam, or sweet clover, as a legume for this locality. Has it any vertue over red clover or alfalfa, soy beans, etc., as a fertilizer when plowed down?" Joseph Carrell, Jr. "What materials are best for satisfactory and economical roofing?" Russell B. Twining. "Is broom corn a paying crop? Where did the corn originate and who introduced it into America?" Marian E. Goentner. "Has Paradichlowbene proved a true remedy for the peach tree borer? What is its price, where can it be obtained, what is the best time to apply it?" John B. Park. Discussion of Current events, Mrs. Sallie Sill, Mrs. Anna H. Penrose. Place and time of next meeting. The home of Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Gheen Horsham, October 15.

Answering of referred questions: "How many dollars' worth can a man raise on an acre of ground? and how much profit is there in intensive farming?" Alfred Williams gave his experience in growing one acre of potatoes, to see what could be done with moderate fertilization and the ground not in a high state of cultivation. After they were sold and all the costs cared for he had in hand $125. He said he had tried intensive farming only in the home garden, where it did well. "Shall a farmer sell or hold his imperishable crops, this year?" Mr. Benjamin Park said a great deal of thought has already been given to this problem. The only imperishable crops of any consequence in this immediate neighborhood are wheat and corn, whether it is better to sell the wheat directly after the threshing is a noted question. If we knew the market of the future we might advise keeping it for higher bids. Now it averages $1.25 per bushel Wheat has enemies in the grain as well as in the field, and also, as it dries it becomes lighter in weight. We do not raise great quantities of corn in this neighborhood, where it is the custom to sell only the left over corn, when feeding has been provided for, so it is not a large enough quantity when sold to warrant special advice.. Mr. Park read, a table comparing this year's crops with last in yield and price, which was very interesting. A commision man told him during the week that he never remembered a season when it was so hard to sell potatoes at the current price. But the crop is by no means normal, and he rather advocated holding potatoes ,so the market will not suffer. They at least, can not be any lower this year.

Both Mr. P. P. Gheen and Mr. Clarence Mullen requested that the questions assigned to them be continued till the next meeting, when they hoped to be able to answer them more fully.

Mr. Ezra Carrell deprecated the tendency to charge incendiarism when there is so much carelessness in the use of matches. He, himself on one occasion stepped upon a parlor match on a barn floor sprinkled with hay, the match ignited and prompt effort was required to avert disaster.

Mrs. Wood suggested as one remedy that we insist the smokers in our employ shall carry only safety matches. Mrs. Gheen invited all present to the musicale to be given by "The Neighbors" at he home of the Misses Goentner on September 24. It is proposed to make the club a Life Patron of the Valley Forge Historical society and the collection will be applied to this purpose. The Good of the Club. Mr. Ezra Carrell said he cultivates about 1-5 of an acre, of ground, planting vegetables and some flowers. Last year he supplied a family of four with all they could use and sold from it articles to the amount of $177. So far this year he has received $169 for his surplus. Gathered 14 bushels of good potatoes, has sugar corn and peas. He argues from this, that one acre in truck propertly farmed should produce $1500.

The Crop Committee. Newton E. Wood finds but little change in market prices since the August meeting. In reference to the holding of crops for higher prices, one must always consider the "little bugs". Besides the harm they do to wheat there is a constant shrinkage of at least 10 per cent of weight on all grains and vegetables.

Harry Worth reported a trip of investigation through New Jersey, where he found in many places total failure and only one instance in which he saw promise of two-thirds of a normal crop. Mr. Frick was requested by the president to tell of the making and varities of flowers in his old fashioned garden. This was very pleasing. Mr. Adee and Mr. Park have attended the potato growers, annual trip through part of the state and each gave valuable reports. Mr. Adee sadi when the growers assembled at Dr. Fretz's farm there 85 automobiles in line. Dr. Fretz is called the potato king of Pennsylvania and showed his fields and told his methods. He plans to have potatoes in the ground alternate years in each field. The between years the fiields are planted with sweet clover or alfalfa. He sprays the vines six times during the season and showed the admiring crowd all the process of preparation and application.

Mr. Park gave a wonderfully realistic account of the trip and the various potato farms with the treatments and yields. They counted rows dug hills, and estimated crops.

The representative of the Montreal Gazette had the following under date of August 26th, regarding the paper.

COSTS OF SERVICE.

"The rest of the morning sesion was taken up with a paper which was read by Mr. L. R. Dutton, of Jenkintown, Pa. The paper was entitled, "Service Costs in a Rate Structure," and dealt in a thorough-going way with a system of rate computation which has been found highly satisfactory in application in cities in the United States. The speaker gave a general historical review of the origins and development of the gas industry, and of the various methods adopted to measure gas consumption and the systems of computing rates employed for a hundred years back. The modern principle of rate computation, which progressive companies sought to put into effect, was an equitable one whereby each customer would be held to pay in proportion to the service he received. A flat rate per foot, largely followed in the past, meant that large numbers of customers were actual liabilities to the companies, not purchasing sufficiently to pay for the consumption of gas, service, plant, and return on capital expended. Large purchasers of gas were obliged, through inequitable rates, to make up for these liabilities. Schedules of rates drawn from the experience of an actual company were embodied in the paper, and Mr. Dutton showed in detail how rates could be set equitably by this system. An animated discusion on the paper followed its reading, the delegates expressing their entire approval of the system outlined."

Requests for a reprint of this paper have been received from the engineering journals and the American Gas Association who will distribute it to all the gas companies in the United States and Canada.

Flourtown of Flowertown, Which?

"What's in the name," is an expression handed down to us by Shakespeare. That there is much in a name is often shown in commercial life today and it begins to look as if the spelling of Flourtown will have to be changed to harmonize with the new industry of the Outdoor Arts, Co., Inc.

On Saturday afternoon, September 10th, the hardy plants grounds of the Outdoor Arts Co., Inc., was the mecca of many visitors to enjoy the wonderful display of hardy phlox and other summer flowering hardy perennials which now are in bloom there.

This unique nursery is situated just north of the old "Wheel Pump Hotel" and on the Springhouse and Chestnut Hill turnpike.

Less than three years ago these 11 acres now owned by the above company were but the pasture for cows and the grubbing grounds for pigs.

Now it is almost filled with thousands of old fashioned hardy flowers, evergreens, trees, shrubs, vines and roses. All of which have been propagated and raised by the company, either by means of seed, cuttings, layering and grafting.

It is hard to conceive that such a transformation could be effected in so short a space of time, yet the intense activities of the organizers of the company, have brought it about and it is their aim and purpose to so arrange the products of their hands that it shall be a definite example of landscape art and manifestation of the true spirit of gardening.

The activities of the Outdoor Arts Company are not confined to the growing of plants, but embrace all that their title implies: Such as landscape plans for public and private estates, engineering, contracting, pruning, spraying, planting, etc. In fact, all that outdoor work which is closely associated and makes for the beauty and comfort of home life.

Wedding A Surprise.

Miss Edna May Webster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Webster, Pottstown, surprised her relatives and friends when she returned from her vacation and announced her marriage to Mahlon Focht Frick, of Ardmore. The bride and bridegroom were both on their vacation. They left Pottstown on Monday, August 15, and went to Elkton, Md., where they were married by Rev. F. Westren. Immediately after the ceremony the couple went to Wildwood, N. J., for several days' stay. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. I. Focht, of Ardmore. The family formerly resided at Pine Forge, moving about a year ago to Ardmore.

Our town council, profiting by the course of the county commissioners, has asked that the real estate in our town be more equitably rated and where property has greatly increased in value lately and yet not raised in valuation, that same be advanced, when the assessors make their triennial assessments. The high cost of borough repairs work requires that taxes must be in proportion, too. Some properties at present are assessed for only one-third of their value, while others are assessed for one-half, while factories are exonerated from borough taxes. The borough finances have gotten into such a condition that with the increased cost of street work, labor and salaries of police and officials it cannot meet its expenses. Our voters at the ensuing election should vote to put men of judgement and experience into our municipal officers regardless of partisan politics if we wish to avoid a financial dilemma next year.

Found Dead in His Field.

When the wife of Albert Pedrick, who was the farmer on the estate of Edw. Benson, Jr., of Haws Lane, Springfield, went into the field to summon her husband for his midday meal, she was horrified to find him dead. He had gone out in the field to operate a motor tractor about 10.30 in the morning.

Coroner Neville was notified, and, upon visiting the scene, found that death had ensued through Pedrick having been caught between the rear of the tractor and a harrow which was hooked on the back.

It appears that on the evening before the harrow had been disengaged. When Pedrick commenced his labors the next morning he set the motor going and backed to the harrow. In bending over to hook it up, it seems, he was struck over the eye by some part of the tractor. He fell between the two machines and was crushed about the abdomen.

Hotel License Transferred.

The liquor license of the Perkiomenville Hotel has been transferred from Frank M. Reppart to Milton W. Schweitzer.

Among the Books.

Galusha, the magnificent,
Is now the book to read.
It tells of one whose thought is bent
On all in life but greed.

His mind in tune with ancient lore,
But misty as to how
The present makes one's fortune more,
And customs sear his brow.

This timorous man seems out of line,
As helpless as a child
Then chance brings friends, who do incline
To save him from the wild.

And so the story moves along,
To prove that wisdom dwells
In sharing wealth amid the throng,
Not in the shares one sells.

He wins at last in his own way
'Tho strange the course he took
And proves that honest dealings pay.
Why don't you read the book?
Sept. 1921 A. M. Craig.

NORTH WALES

There was a very light vote cast at our primary election in all of the wards. Very many women failed to enroll and cared little about the special ticket.

Councilman George Haag and family have gone for a week's tour by automobile of New York state.

Philip Phander has purchased a home at Hockertown and will move from Main street to his new home and close out some of his personal property here.

The men who was charged with attempt to steal an automobile from Almon Johnson some time ago have been acquitted.

John Sautters, of Philadelphia, was married last week to Lillian Treymoyer, of Oak Lane. Mr. Howland has taken passession of the Kelly barber shop and will reside on Shearer street when he returns from his bridal tour.

Frederick Frissell, who is operating the Frissell Manufacturing Co., on South Second street, expects to go to Rock Hill, N. C., or Friday, where he will probably be employed as superindent of a textile mill. Hiss business here will probably be turned over to an agent.

The property owners on Pennsylvania avenue who failed to put down cement sidewalks last fall between Shearer avenue and Elm avenue, will be requested to lay same now within 30 days or the borough will do it and add 20 per cent.

Cottage meetings will be held for a a week in a number of Reformed church mebers' homes previous to the evangelistic meeting for a week by Rev. Rufus Fartman, formerly pastor of the Heidelburg church, Philadelphia, who recently has been assigned as an evangelist by the Synod for eastern Pennsylvania.

Charles Meredith, the versatile editor of Quakertown, was in town on Sunday worshipping at the Baptist church, where he was greeted by many former neighbors, and later spent the day with Arthur Castner.

Wm. Holt is building a garage in the rear of his home on Rose alley.

The tearing up of Main street from Beaver to Walnut streets is quite a hindrance to our business men. New rails have been laid.

Rev. Frank Teske, of St. Luke's Reformed church, on Tuesday moved from Shearer avenue to the remodeled parsonage adjoining the church on North Main street.

We had a very disastrous fire on North Main street early on Saturday morning when the fine home of Samuel C. Kriebel was burned to the ground with all its contents. The family were away, having gone on an auto trip to Middletown, Pa., to visit relatives and to take Miss Elizabeth Weingartner to entert a school. The home was closed and the suspicion is robbery.

The funeral of Walter Steins, who was killed in the late war just before the armistice, took place from his former home with is mother, Rosa Stein, on Main street, above town, and was the largest held in this vicinity for a long time. Donald MacLeod Post American Legion and North Wales lodge, No. 619 of Odd Fellows ,of which was a member, with the North Wales band turned out. The remains were conveyed on a gun carriage pulled by four bay horses with Henry Thomas is charge. The burial service at the grave in Lansdale cemetery was in charge of the Legion.

The pumping service of the water works broke down last week and portions on Pocono hill were short of supply.

Morris Roberts has returned from his vacation in New England.

David Seasholtz and family have moved from this temporary residence the Main street hotel to Shearer avenue and Swartley street.

The borough is using the material from the trolley excavations on Main street to macadamize some of the back street and to repair others.

Church, Home and School Are Lax.

That the church, the school, the home and the community of the nation are not measuring up as they should as man-making forces, was the opinion expressed by Dr. L. H. Beeler, president of the State Normal School, of Minot, North Dakota, in his address at the opening session of the annual Montgomery County Teachers' Institute, in Norristown high school building. "Just so long as the church remains closed six days of the week and the schools do not realize their opportunity for instilling the right ideals in the youthful minds, that long will the young people of today seek to gratify their craving for fellowship and express their inherited social nature in institutional shloons, where there are gay surrounding of questionable moral standards. So long as these conditions continue will adolscent crime, which now rates 40 per cent., be on the increase," said the speaker.

Autos in Collision.

A collision between two automobiles took place in Norristown one day recently, when a Studebaker touring car, driven by W. M. Bitting, of East Greenville, traveling east on Main struck the Ford roadster of W. G. Risdon, superintendent of the Borough Electric Light Co., at the intersection of Main and Swede streets. Risdon had come up Swede, and was turning west on Main when the accident occurred. Fortunately no one was injured and only slight damages resulted to the two machines—the step of Risdon's car and the right mud guard of the Bitting car were bent.

Enlargement of Gas and Electric Office

The main office building of the Philadelphia Suburban Gas and Electric Company, corner of York Road and Summit Avenue, Jenkintown, Pa., is being enlarged, with an addition 30 feet square.

This room is to provide space for the increased accounting department, and is the completion of the plans that were outlined but which were not completed during the War period. This new room will provide easy access to consumers when consulting chief clerk and other departments, regarding their accounts, and will remove the disadvantages under which employes have been working the past four or five years.

Announcement will be made of the opening of this Addition which is under construction by W. John Stevens, Inc., and inspection of the room by consumers will be invited.

The state highway department has had the DeKalb Street pike resurfaced with crushed stone and a coat of tarvia applied.

A citizens meeting was held in the fire house Monday evening for the purpose of forming an organization that will endeavor to have cemented the DeKalb Street pike from Germantown pike to Sumneytown pike. The new organization will urge this to be done by the state highway department, but there are many here who believe that this is hopeless for the present at least, as there is very little funds in the state treasury to do this work, and from present indications it will be some time before the object of the organization can be accomplished.

E. S. Wentz, tax collector of Whitpain township, will sit at Washington Square, Sept. 22, from 10 a. m., to 11 a. m., and at Centre Square, 1 to 2 p. m., Broad Axe, Sept. 23, from 1 to 2 p. m., West Ambler, 7 to 8 p. m., to receive taxes.

Last Thursday evening was a red letter night in the history of the Centre Square Fire company. On this occasion was celebrated the burning of the mortgage on the company's property, which is now free of debt. It was an enjoyable event also, as the company in celebrating the occasion gave an entertainment and furnished refreshments of ice cream and cake. There were a number of excellent addresses delivered by the members of the company, the history of which was given in a splendid manner by Richard Raynan, first president of the company, and Mr. Breed, who also has been an official for many years. A splendid tribute was also paid the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary who by their efforts did much to assist in freeing the company of debt. Courtlandt Morris was chairman of the meeting and the principal speaker was Adolf Muller of the East Norriton Fire company, who also took the opportunity to bring to the attention of those present the neglect by the highway department of the DeKalb Street pike.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Brunner are expected to return this week from Atlantic City, where they have been sojourning for some time.

Jacob and Kinsey Huber recently enjoyed a fishing trip with a party of Norristown friends to Forestque, N. J., and returned with a fair catch.

Joseph, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Zornek, has been ill with stomach trouble. However, at this writing he is able to be about again.

Splendid progress is being made with Harry Mumbower's new barn. The frame work is about up, and the latter part of the week, weather conditions being favorable, will see the roof partly on.

Howard Robinson, of near Belfry, had the rear wheel of his car knocked off by a train at Custer station one day last week. Fortunately none of the occupants orf the machine was injured.

William Heitzman and the Rev. Mr. Snyder attended the Reading fair last week.

TOWN TOPICS.

Tax Collector E. C. Scott, of Ambler, will sit at the First National Bank of Ambler, on Sept. 29 and 30 for the collection of borough and school taxes.

Mrs. L. E. Ruht and daughter, of Belmont avenue, have moved to Minot, N. D. Miss Ruth was the efficient principal of Upper Dublin township schools for several years.

A reliable, dependable, easy running, easy riding, economical in gasoline, oil and assuring long life to tires—such is the car you are looking for. I beg to call your attention to the Buick. Examine it critically, ask a Buick owner and let me demonstrate its many commendable features. —Rudolph Speelhoffer, agent. adv

Dr. Andrew Godfrey and family have returned ot Ambler after having spent six weeks at the Pocono Lake Preserve, Pocono Mountains. During his stay Dr. Godfrey was a most ardent follower of Izaak Walton; and was successful in landing many black bass and perch. Two of the former species were the largest taken from the lake this season. One measured 17 inches in length and weighed 2 1-4 pounds, and another caught the next day measured 20 inches in length and tipped the scales at 4 1-4 pounds.

Tresspass notices on sale at the "Gazette" office are prepared in conformity with the existing state laws. The provision is that the property must be "prominently posted" with a "printed sign." The sign is required to state that the land is private property and that trespassing thereon is prohibited, and in addition the act of assembly must be stated at the foot of the card. Property owners have desire to proceed legally against trespassers must comply with this law themselves with regard to the nature of the notice posted on their property, else legal action will fail, no matter how flagrant the violation. If you desire to close your land, secure these "Gazette" office notices and post them "prominently," as required by the law.

J. E. Underwood has returned from a recent motor trip to Pittsburgh, where he visited his daughter, Mrs. Thomas Rayner, Jr., at her home in Bellevue. During the journey Mr. Underwood covered 870 miles through most beautiful sections of this state, over fine prosperous cities and productive farms. He returned by way of the National highway, and thinks this is at present the best route. Portions of the Wm. Penn highway are now being reconstructed. The fruit crop generally throughout the state is a failure, but this condition does not prevail in other lines of farming activities as judged by appearances of farms, buildings and equipment.

The time limit will shortly expire for the prize corn competition conducted by the First National Bank of Ambler. The contest is open to depositors, and in a few weeks the committee from the board of directors will visit thev arious fields entered in the contest in preparation for their report to the board which has offered the following cash prizes: Five acres or more of corn, first prize, $50;; second prize, $25; third prize, $10; best one acre, $25. There are many fine fields of corn in this locality. Send in your name and enter your crop in competition. Do this promptly, and thus get in line for a prize.

There is always considerable complaint from tax payers regarding the high rate, but it is safe to say that not once is taken into consideration the amount of money that is expended by borough officials in the business to be transacted. The street work alone is an item of great expense at the present time because of the extra heavy traffic by motor cars and trucks. It is a known fact that to keep up our streets as they are now being maintained costs between $5000 and $7000, a year and yet the chief work that is being done is merely of the patching order. However, the financial condition of the borough does not warrant at this time going into any great expense for permanent work until the present indebtedness is largely reduced. There is much, though that property owners and tenants can do towards keeping down the cost of labor on our streets. For some time we have noticed our street commissioner remoying the weeds from the gutters in front of properties. This kind of work covers a period of several weeks, and the resultant expense to the taxpayers could be saved if each property owner and tenant would see that the grass and weeds are removed without any cost to the borough at large. Not alone will this saving be effected, but it will help to beautify our town. People who have visited our borough say we have no pride in our town and do nothing towards making it look attractive. Weeds and grass they say, are even allowed to grow over the pavements. This is a fact as there arep orperties in the borough where the grass and weeds grow so high on the side walk that the condition was complained of to the borough autorities and the police officer was obliged to personally bring it to the attention of the property owners. Pavements too, in many places are being neglected and along a number of streets the pavements are a menace to walk over. On Tuesday at the primaries there was no opposition to the candidates for council. Considerable persuasion had to be used in securing the consent of the individuals to stand for the offices, because there is nothing but resultant hard work and the annoyance of a thankless job. It is thed uty of every taxpayer to assist these men during the year of 1921, and prove that cooperation between borough officials and private citizens is the one thing that is needed for making Ambler what it should have been many years ago," A Town of Cooperation." We do not want more laws to compel our residents to do the things they should do, because this condition always creates an antagonistic feeling, and it will be far better if each citizen is reached in another way than by the enforcement of law. Let everybody work for harmony in the creation of a feeling of good fellowship, so that the cooperation suggested of may be realized.

Doctor's Car Wrecked.

The new automobile of Dr. J. Newton Hunsberger, of West Main street, was wrecked when it was struck by a touring car containing four men on Ridge Pike in Jeffersonville. The physician just came from a call on a patient, in time to see the strange car bearing license number 498,159, crash into the side of his machine which was standing at the side of the road,, and knock it over to the trolley tracks.

The doctor's car was badly damaged and the operator of the machine causing the accident drove on, refusing to divulge his name.

Wills Probated.

Josiah Frederick, late of Pottstown, disposes of an estate valued at $2350, which he gives in equal shares to his five children, and names Raymond and Robert Frederick as his executors.

Anna B. A. Cressman, late of Gwynedd Valley, gives an estate valued at $6000 to her husband. Allen, who is also named as executor.

Cooper Who Fled Poor Farm Nabbed.

While Major Fellman, warden of the Montgomery county prison, was collecting photographs and fingerprints of Lornie Cooper (escaped), to send to Maryland, in hopes that a negro caught there was the missing one from Norristown, Chief Hallowell, of Cheltenham townshi called up the jail and notified the warden that Cooper had been nabbed in that district.

The police of Towson, Md,. caught a negro who answered Cooper's description.

Cooper who had been serving a sentence for receiving stolen goods, was paroled to the poor farm and until today had not been heard of.

Chief Hallowell's officers arrested the man on the charge of felonious entry and larceny and he was taken to Norristown.

Ray Pownall Home From South America.

Raymond Pownall, of Columbia, South America, who is spending two months' vacation, stopping in the home of his mother, Mrs. Frank Pownall, in Lansdale, has also been visiting with other relatives in Bucks county. He suffered an attack of the Spanish fever, similar to the "flu," before leaving the South.

Mr. Pownall has been in the employ of the United Fruit Company for the past ten years, one of the largest fruit concerns in the world. The main offices of the company are in Boston, but they have extensive holdings in South America. Raymond was first a wireless operator for the company, having charge of a number of stations at various points, but he decided upon request of the company, to branch out and enlarge upon his opportunities, and about two years ago after a visit to the North, he took a position on one of their, banana plantations as manager and during the last year he has accepted a responsible position as superintendent over one of their districts, it covering nearly 100,000 acres of land. The greater part of the district is pasture land, there being about 5000 cattle. There are about 12,000 acres of farm land and 7000 acres of bananas growing. There are no roads suitable for automobiles and his means of getting about over the territory is on mule-back, or by hand-cars, there being tracks laid all over the district. There are several thousand laborers employed, the natives speaking Spanish.

The climate there ranges the year round from 60 degrees in the morning to 110 some days. There is never any frost, and three crops of corn are raised in a year. Up in the hills their coffee plantations are located.

Mr. Pownall's father and grandfather were natives of Bucks county, and he tells some interesting tales of the South, their mode of living, method of irrigation, etc.

A Grateful Letter.

It is in trying conditions like that related below by Mrs. Geo. L. North of Naples, N. P., that proves the worth of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy. "Two years ago last summer" she says "our little boy had dysentery. At that time we were living in the country eight miles from a doctor. Our son was taken ill suddenly and was about the sickest child I ever saw. He was in terrible pain all the time and passed from one convulsion into another. I sent my husband for the doctor and after he was gone thought of a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy in the cupboard. I gave him some of it and he began to improve at once. By the time the doctor arrived he was out of danger." sep

Officer M'Kernan is Suspended for Month.

Leo McKernan, the Norristown police-officer who was alleged to have been a participant in a party which terminated in a fight near Penn Square, was called before the Watch and Lamp committee of Norristown council in order to give his version of the affair, which resulted in his suspension from the force for a month.

After going over a report of the mix-up which McKernan figured, he was allowed to enter the committee room and offer an explanation of his conduct.

Keep Well and Be Happy.

If you would be happy you must keep your bowels regular. One or two of Chamberlain's Tablets taken immediately after supper will cause a gentle movement of the bowels on the following morning. Try it. sep.

Got the Wrong Fellow.

A communication has been received by Magistrate McLaughlin, Norristown, from the estate of John H. Hinkle, Springhouse, stating that Mr. Hinkle died June 23rd, and that none of his automobiles has been in operation for some time prior to the death of Mr. Hinkle.

The communication comes about to Mr. Hinkle several days ago, in which he was charged by Myron Hampton, tender of the DeKalb street river bridge, with a violation of the automobile laws.

Several days ago an autoist nearly struck a boy when leaving the structure and Hampton took the driver to task. The autoist answered Hampton in a very snappy manner and the watchman immediately had a warrant the wrong license number.

The license number Hampton secured was that of Hinkle. The communication also stated that none of Mr. Hinkle's machines had been in operation prior to or following his death It is thought that Hampton secured thew rong license number.

Lest You Forget.

Let us remind you that Chamberlain's Tablets not only cause a gentle movement of the bowels but improve the appetite and strengthen the digestion. sep
